Only Currency

DENY ATTEMPT TO DRIVE ALLIES OUT

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—The State Department said today that the United States will make further efforts to iron out the controversy with Russia over Berlin before letting the case go to the United Nations.

By OMER ANDERSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, June 29.—A Soviet source indicated today that Russia will end the drive to oust the western allies from Berlin if they accept the Soviet "Eastern Mark" as Berlin's only legal currency.

The Soviet-licensed newspaper Taegliche Rundschau said: "If the Americans, British and French wish to show good will toward the Berlin population and the Soviet Union they will renounce the illegal attempt to introduce the Deutsche mark."

"All difficulties in connection with this illegal attempt will then be ended."

Currency Of Western Zones
The "Deutsche" mark is the new currency of the three western occupation zones.

The newspaper denied that Soviet authorities are attempting to drive out the western powers from the former German capital. But it charged that the western allies "by their separatist actions" have removed "any reason for remaining in Berlin."

Russian occupation official announced a partial lifting of international travel restrictions.

Many bathers were seen in swimming at Flat Rock on a stream which lies off the Mt. Jackson highway. Many were in bathing at a quarry in Bessemer.

Shipment of fish for stocking in Lawrence county streams will arrive at the post-office at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday and sportmen are asked to help Fish Protector Clinton White do the stocking.

Conrad Richards, of 425 Sumner avenue, brought a beautiful specimen of the large Cecropia moth, to the office of The News Tuesday, hoping that some collector might like to have the specimen for his collection.

Pa Newc just happened to notice that there are a large number of holes in downtown sidewalks, which might give someone a nasty tumble. Most of them are small, about the size of a foot, but these are large enough to cause a person to turn his ankle and perhaps be thrown heavily to the sidewalk.

The Hollyhock marathon has begun in earnest. Mrs. R. J. Zursky, R. D. 1, New Castle, reports that a hollyhock on her farm today measured eight foot and nine inches tall and is still growing.

Draft Registration Expected In August

HARRISBURG, June 29.—(INS)—A selective service system embracing 175 draft boards is planned today in Pennsylvania to handle registration and eventual induction of thousands of 18 through 25 year old men.

Lt. Col. Henry M. Gross, state director of the selective service records office, said the new administration blueprint would replace the 422 local boards which channelled more than one million men into the armed forces during World War II.

Approximately 750,000 Pennsylvanians will be tapped by selective service and about 30,000 will be inducted the first year, Gross estimated.

August 16 is expected to be chosen for registration but induction will begin in September.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., June 29.—The United Nations today gave the green light to Count Folke Bernadotte's peace formula for Palestine and staked all hope on general acceptance by Arabs and Jews of the basic "suggestions."

The U. N. mediator asked the Lake Success headquarters to keep the contents of his draft formula confidential for the time being and said he had made the same request of the Arab League and Israel.

U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie communicated the basic principles of the Bernadotte peace document to the 11 members of the Security Council.

A general feeling evident at Lake Success is that the chances are continued suspension of hostilities.

Speed Relief Work In Japan Disaster Area

Casualty Toll Estimates Are Conflicting—Thousands Of Homes Lost

FUKUI HARDEST HIT IN CATASTROPHE

(BULLETIN)
TOKYO, June 29.—(INS)—U. S. Army officials announced late tonight that the known toll resulting from yesterday's quake and fire disaster in western Japan has thus far reached 3,155 persons killed and 7,752 seriously injured in Fukui and 39 surrounding villages.

This total of 10,907 casualties, not counting the slightly hurt, represented a sharp upward revision of earlier Army estimates and was closer to official Japanese figures.

By JOHN RICH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, June 29.—Relief teams fought tonight to allay widespread distress in western Japan's quake disaster zone where the U. S. army estimated the dead and injured at a maximum of 4,000, in contrast to Japanese police figures of nearly 10,000 casualties.

The latest report from Kyoto headquarters of the U. S. First Army Corps, received in Tokyo this evening, said 39 bodies had been removed and 800 injured treated up until 2 o'clock this afternoon in Fukui, the city hardest hit in yesterday's earthquake and resultant fires.

Estimate 4,000 Casualties
An American army authority said at 7:30 p. m. that, in view of the toll thus far counted in Fukui, it was estimated that 4,000 casualties "at most" were suffered "in the entire disaster area" and that "at the highest there were 300 killed."

Warren Confers With Dewey On Campaign Plan

Candidates May Make Some
Joint Personal Appearances During Campaign

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PAWLING, N. Y., June 29.—GOP presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey and his running mate, Gov. Earl Warren of California, will map out plans today for an active and vigorous campaign for victory in November.

In the privacy of Gov. Dewey's farm at Pawling, the two governors will engage in their first "real chat" since they were nominated as the Republican standard bearers in Philadelphia last week.

Gov. Warren, accompanied by his wife and their three daughters—Virginia, 19, Dorothy, 17 and Nina, 14—will motor to Pawling from New York City where they are vacationing.

Women Get Acquainted
While the two governors are talking politics, Mrs. Dewey, the prospective "first lady," will have an opportunity to get better acquainted with Mrs. Warren and her three charming daughters.

Dewey and Warren will not doubt map out the strategic areas in which they conduct their speaking tours between now and November especially when the campaign will be at its height.

It was regarded as a certainty by political observers that Dewey and Warren will decide to make a few joint personal appearances during the campaign.

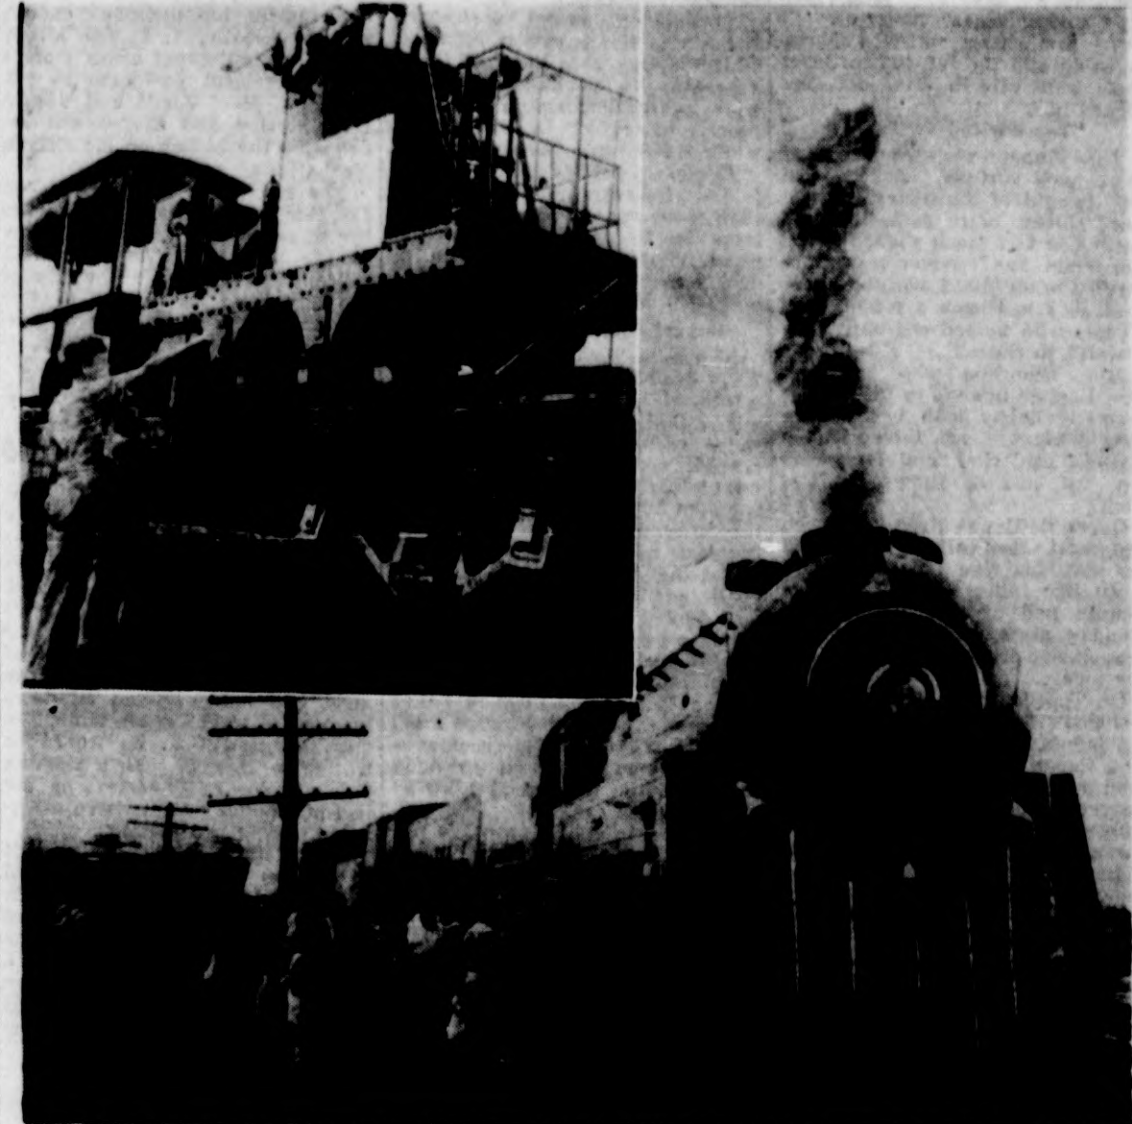

This will be a departure in Dewey strategy. Four years ago he made no joint appearances with the then vice presidential nominee, John W. Bricker of Ohio.

Tito Repudiation May Show Weakness In Soviet Empire

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Western power diplomats today interpreted the Cominform's repudiation of Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia as a sign of weakness in the Soviet Empire.

While not immediately committal, officials in Washington also regarded the move as possibly one of the most significant since extension of the iron curtain throughout the Balkans.

Developments

There were these developments: 1. High government spokesmen said that the commerce department may modify its tight controls over exports to Yugoslavia if that country breaks with Russia.

2. Official Washington speculated that Tito already may be in prison—or worse.

3. Vlado Macek, former vice-premier of Yugoslavia, foresaw the return to work Wednesday.

The return-to-work resolution was adopted after a state of emergency was proclaimed and the government prepared to take stringent measures to break the two-week-old walkout.

Soviet Partially Lifts Travel Ban Within Germany

Flight Of Germans Not Relieved In Any Way On Food Situation

RESTRICTIONS ON TRAINS CONTINUE

By OMER ANDERSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, June 29.—The Russians announced today a partial lifting of their ban against travel between the eastern and western occupation zones of Germany.

An announcement by the Soviet-controlled ADN agency said that all Germans possessing proper permits will be allowed to engage in travel between zones.

The relaxation on the travel ban did not lift restrictions on the movement of railroad trains between zones or that on travel by the western allies.

Unconfirmed border reports said that the traffic ban easing may be extended tomorrow to include the movement of allied road and rail traffic into the Russian-blockaded four-power city.

Does Not Relieve Flight

While the order in no way relieves the plight of Germans in the western sectors of Berlin who now are being supplied with necessities by air caravan, it marks the first easing of Soviet restrictions to seal off its occupation zone against currency invasion.

Travel was halted immediately after the western allies introduced the Deutsche mark as the new currency in areas occupied by America, Britain and France.

An indication was seen that there will be no early resumption of rail traffic along the single route Helldorf-to-Berlin line on which the western allies moved supplies to the former German capital.

The ADN agency quoted a Soviet announcement saying that "repairs" will require considerable time.

U. S. Leaders In Berlin

Army Undersecretary William Draper and Army Plans Chief Lieut. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer arrived in Berlin meanwhile with 30 war department experts on what was called an "information" trip.

Draper said that the visit to Berlin had been scheduled four weeks ago. But in response to questions he did not deny that his presence is linked with the Berlin situation.

It was revealed that before an (Continued on Page Two)

New Japan Quake Shock Is Recorded

CLEVELAND, June 29.—(INS)—Another strong earthquake off the west coast of Japan was recorded today on the John Carroll University seismograph in Cleveland.

Rev. Henry F. Birkenhauer, seismologist, said the first wave was recorded at 6:42 a. m. EDT and that the shocks were being recorded when the instrument tape was removed at 8 a. m.

Father Birkenhauer said the distance of the quake was set at 6,750 miles northwest of Cleveland, placing it off the west coast of Honshu Island in the Japanese chain.

He added that today's quake is not as severe as that which rocked Honshu yesterday and that it apparently is an "after shock."

The corn is booming, the spinach are up, and the onions are riding high. The cabbage is almost in hand by now, but its hard to understand why, no matter the weather in sun or in rain, and no matter how fast things grow, the vegetables are in second place, as a matter of fact they seem slow, compared to the weeds that are always there, they thrive both early and late, and I wish someone would ape the weeds, the weather is eighty-eight.

Marshall Plan Agreement With Britain Is Given

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—The state department made public today the formal agreement under which Great Britain will share in the European recovery program. The text of the agreement was issued just as the London government laid it before parliament. That body must approve the document and its terms before mid-night Saturday if there is to be a continued flow of Marshall plan goods to Britain.

Earlier the United States also issued the text of agreements with Italy and Greece. Thirteen other agreements are to be issued in time for them to be approved by the European powers before the Saturday deadline.

As in the case of Greece, the British agreement provides for most-favored-nation treatment of goods imported to the United Kingdom from the United States zones in Germany and Korea.

This means that goods from those areas are not to be subject to duties or other penalties greater than those on goods from other countries.

However, the British agreement provides that, should currency rates in Germany and Korea have the effect of indirectly subsidizing them, duties equivalent to the amount of the subsidy may be imposed.

As in the other agreements, that for Britain provides for the setting aside of pounds sterling equal to the value of goods given without charge by the United States.

These pounds are to pay the costs of maintaining the American ERU mission in Britain, to pay the cost of transporting relief goods or to pay off the national debt.

The currency agreement is expected to meet preliminary criticism in England that the United States is seeking to control that country's internal policy through the monetary provisions.

Special Committee Appointed By Martin

The sesquicentennial headquarters was an exciting place all during the evening, Monday. The girls checked their ticket sales in and then many of them stayed until the final vote was announced.

Close Competition

While Miss Cray was far out in front of the field, the competition for second and third place was close. Miss Rose Marie Di Genaro of 1511 Wilson avenue was right in back of second and third place and barely missed winning third with a vote of 1,348,900.

"It was one of the best queen contests we have ever had," said Ray Booth, sesqui manager. "I never saw a finer spirit of sportsmanship and the returns in ticket sales ranks with the best jobs ever turned in."

"Too Excited To Talk"

The winners were excited over their good fortune. Asked what she thought of the honor she had won, Queen Betty said "I'm too excited to talk much about it. It's wonderful and I never was more thrilled in my life. I won the honor because I had such a lot of good friends who helped me and I am grateful to them."

Miss Hamilton who is "Miss New Castle" intends to satisfy her dramatic hobby with her trip to New York. "I am interested in drama," said she, "and I want to see just lots of shows in New York."

Queen Betty was given her crown and regalia robes to take home with her and Miss New Castle was also given her robes. Miss Lawrence County had another engagement Monday night and could not be present but her robes will be given her today.

On Tuesday noon, there will be a Queen's luncheon at The Castle-ton and on Monday night there will be a Queen's ball in the Cathedral sponsored by the Marine Corps League. Tuesday night the Sesquicentennial queen will be crowned at Taggart Stadium at the beginning of the first Castle-Cade pageant performance.

casualties in its latest statement this evening regarding the dead and injured in Fukui prefecture (province), of which the shattered city by that name is the capital.

The Japanese prefectural authorities, citing figures compiled by police, said the prefecture's casualties included 2,634 killed and 7,131 injured. They listed about 1,000 dead in the city of Maruoka alone.

38,000 Homes Lost

In the city of Fukui, the prefectural government announced, 23,000 houses were destroyed—19,000 by the quake and 4,000 in the ensuing conflagration that raged through last night.

Throughout Fukui prefecture, the Kyodo News Agency reported, 38,100 houses were lost. Of these, according to the agency, 30,000 were totally demolished and 1,600 partly destroyed by the quake while 6,500 were burned down.

Kyodo's report of casualties contained figures somewhat higher than those announced a short time later by the prefectural government. Both reports were considerably at variance with the lower official American figures.

Report 2,600 Dead Counted

Kyodo said police had counted 2,600 dead and 7,113 wounded for a total of 9,713 casualties throughout Fukui prefecture. Most of these casualties, the agency reported, occurred in smoldering Fukui city, the center of a devastated 30-mile area. Kyodo said the injured had been counted at hospitals and medical aid stations where they were treated.

Jiji, another Japanese news service, quoted the Fukui provincial police as reporting 8,000 dead or injured in the prefecture.

An intercepted radio message from a U. S. Army team in Fukui estimated the city's injured at 4,000 to 5,000, while an American general at Kyoto estimated the dead at 50 and the injured at 1,000 in the provincial capital.

Fukui Hardest Hit

Fukui, a popular silk-manufacturing center, was the hardest hit of several quake-wrecked towns in three west central Japanese prefectures where, according to the Japanese welfare ministry, 300,000 to 400,000 persons were homeless.

American army teams were engaged in a drive to prevent the outbreak of epidemics, as well in helping the wounded, hungry and homeless. Medical and other relief materials were rushed to the quake zone by air and land. On smoking Fukui city, U. S. planes began dropping emergency relief supplies by parachute today.

In sharp contrast with unofficial observers' guesses that the death toll may run into the hundreds or even thousands, the first official American announcement of Fukui's known casualties stated that 39 bodies thus far had been recovered.

Despite the insistence of American military officials that the toll would not prove so great as had been feared, the Tokyo newspaper Asahi said tonight an estimated 16,000 were killed or injured throughout the quake area. This was the highest casualty estimate yet published.

George Greenlee, assistant editor of the British Occupation Forces paper at Osaka and one of the first Allied observers to enter devastated Fukui, asserted some 1,600 persons perished in two theaters. He said "only 400 of 2,000 people came out."

He reported also that "at least" 50 of 250 children watching a movie in a primary school were killed.

The fighters will be accompanied by two Douglas C-54 transports, one Douglas C-47 transport, a Boeing B-29 weather and navigational reconnaissance plane. The RAF planes on their westbound flight will be accompanied by two De Havilland Mosquito bombers.

These quarters do not exclude a suggested meeting of President Truman and Premier Stalin, although a proposal for a session of foreign ministers is considered more likely.

This is the second time that Bishop Wicke made an initial start in New Castle. The first occasion was during his college days when as a student at Baldwin-Wallace college he made his first trip as a varsity football player and the team came to play against New Wilmington. On this occasion the Baldwin-Wallace players made the first part of their journey by train to New Castle and were then taken by motor coach to New Wilmington.

Bishop Wicke was elected a bishop of the Methodist Church at the recent jurisdictional conference in Albany, N. Y. The bishop enters the episcopal office from a very successful pastorate at Mt. The most important next step for Bernadotte is to induce top leaders of the Arab League and of the provisional Israel regime to meet him half-way and sit down together at a conference table. The mediator told U. N. he was willing to arrange such a meeting either at his headquarters on the Isle of Rhodes or anywhere designated by the two factions.

Bernadotte said he would wait at Rhodes for several days and decide his next move after both the Arabs and Jews have indicated to him their reaction to the peace blueprint. In his own opinion, a compromise should be possible on the basis of counter-proposals from both of the disputing factions.

The emergency proclamation was signed by King George VI on recommendation of Prime Minister Clement Attlee as the government acted swiftly to terminate the walk-out. Some 50,000 port workers had joined in the strike which threatened the nation's meager food supply.

The emergency measure—the first such invoked in peacetime since the 1926 general strike—empowers the government to take steps to preserve peace, and regulate the supply and distribution of food, water, fuel, light and other necessities.

Troops already have been used to unload strike-crippled vessels. Attlee has charged that "Communist mischief" is partly responsible for the strike which spread from London to Liverpool, Birkenhead and other ports.

FAITH

PEACE

The nomination of the men who expect to be elected on a National ticket in a short time, has taken place. Another party is also expecting, in the very near future, to nominate their leaders.

No matter which Party wins the election, the principle thing needed in this Country now, is peace among Parties. All good men should be working together for the good of this Country, not in opposition to each other, at the expense of the taxpayer.

We cannot expect to make peace with foreign countries, unless we practice peace at home.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Oestreicher, INS Foreign Director

New proof that American world leadership never can be altered in the slightest by a political campaign, a riotous convention or a presidential election itself is on the record today.

It took the form of Great Britain's firm action in condemning Soviet intrigues in Berlin by means of which the Russians hope to gain political advantages by aggravating the plight of two million or more Germans living in the western zones under allied protection.

And this meant—in a time of undoubted crisis—that Britain backs up to the hilt the firm attitude of U. S. Sen. Lucius D. Clay, who has said that nothing short of war will drive American troops from the German capital.

Always Took Lead

Clay and his predecessor, Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, always took the leadership in conducting affairs of the four-power allied commandatura set up in an old high-school building in the Zehlendorf section to administer the affairs of Berlin.

This was logical and expected. There never was any argument about it. American prestige was at its highest. Soviet soldiers were in tatters. British divisions "Cannibalized"—the military term for reduction in numerical strength because of manpower shortage—and the French emotionally grateful for their deliverance from Nazi brutality.

The British went very far indeed in their official statement calling upon the Russians to restore normal traffic conditions in Berlin or take the consequences.

Create Siege Of Berlin

They branded recent Soviet moves as a "ruthless attempt by the Soviet government to create a state of siege in Berlin."

There is an open charge that the Kremlin "hopes to secure political advantages at the expense of the other allied powers" by the starvation of helpless civilians.

And together with this formal declaration from the government in 10 Downing Street came a statement from the great Winston Churchill that the allies even must consider the calculated risk of war if they are to deal properly with the Communist menace.

All this adds up to a great deal more than immediate partisan politics in the United States, platform planks and oratory.

It might be remembered that the present British government itself has been criticized in many quarters for dropping its world leadership by giving freedom to India and Burma and abandoning its Palestine mandate.

Yet Britain now is turning to leadership from the United States. Perhaps "manifest destiny" is occurring once again. And a gentleman named Marshall Vasily Sokolovsky, unceremoniously arrested for speeding in Berlin, is playing a part in it.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PREPARING A TOT FOR SCHOOL

Most little children who, next fall, will enter school for the first time are hopefully and eagerly looking forward to the experience. Happily they talk about it to their parents and playmates. Their parents are appreciative listeners and keep cultivating this happy, hopeful attitude in the child. So do many of the playmates.

Nevertheless, a few older children, inclined to bully younger children, will deliberately put doubts and fears into the younger child's head and heart. Unfortunately, these fears may grow to large proportions before the first day at school. Parents with insight and appreciation and with skill at winning the child's confidence and faith can dispel these planted fears.

Momen Of Vexation

But, alas, an occasional parent, who might be intelligent otherwise, will, at a moment of vexation at the child whose cooperation and obedience they have not cultivated well, say to him: "Just wait till you go to school. Your teacher will make you mind." Then this teacher may be picture as a ferocious creature instead of the lovely person she really is.

I wish the mother of the little child who enters school next fall would try to get over to this child the spirit of the following: It even might be read to the child with profit:

"It won't be long now till you will be going to school. It may have seemed to you that this time would never come. But it soon will come. You have supposed it would be great fun to go to school. You will soon be sure it is great fun.

At school you will meet many new friends and when you come home each evening you will tell us about these friends. One friend at school you will talk about most of your teacher. You will say that she is very lovely. You will talk about her lovely voice and her lovely smile. You will tell about her kind and lovely ways.

When you are hurt at school you will go to this lovely teacher. When you feel sad and worried you will go to her. You will go to her when anything seems to go wrong with you. She will help you to learn from books. She will be happy when you learn well and when you find it hard to learn she will make it easier to you. This teacher will also have the same kind of lovely ways with all the other children at school.

Will Get Tired

But your teacher will have a lot of children to look after. Sometimes she will get tired for some children will want her love and attention all the time. They will forget that all the other children will have her love and attention, too. But you won't forget. You will remember and wait. You won't be selfish.

Some children at school will make more noise than they should and do other things they should not do. In this way they will be unkind to the teacher. Don't you think every boy and girl should be kind to his teacher and thoughtful of her?

Fellow Parent: Do all you can to make your child feel hopeful and happy about his first day of school. Also help him in all ways you can to play freely with other children of his age. My bulletins, "Parents Can Help Their Child Succeed at School," "Tom Learning To Be Sociable," and "Your Child's His Playmates," each to be had in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

A friend of mine sent me a newspaper clipping, and with the clipping a little note.

"Here is an item which struck me as being unusual. You may be able to do something with it in your column."

I read the item. It told about a man—I shall not mention his name, because names and places don't matter in this case—who died at the County Farm in a Middle Western city at the age of 105.

His father lived to be 113, his mother 109. He was the father of eight children.

That was the gist of the item. So what, I said to myself.

What can one write about the mere fact that a man has lived much longer than most people and that he comes from a long-lived family?

What had the man done with all his years? Had he accomplished anything unusual in his 105 years? Had his mother and father done anything noteworthy in their combined 222 years?

In America, as you know, we worship success, power, wealth, fame.

But just living long—what can you write about that? So I laid the item aside and forgot about it.

Then I read an article in Collier's. It was entitled "The Two Vandenberg's."

It was a biography of the Michigan Senator and told about the change that had occurred in him the last few years—according to the article, a change much for the better.

In 1921 the Senator had written a book in which he eulogized Alexander Hamilton as the greatest American.

The reason? Because Hamilton was a great statesman, an intrepid soldier, a great economist, a most brilliant author, a most fascinating orator and "the most formidable legal luminary of his time."

In other words, greatness to Vandenberg meant what it means to most of us—the sort of greatness that is meat to press agents and columnists.

But by 1946 Senator Vandenberg had changed his ideas. He had matured. He had learned to know real values.

This is what he said in 1946: "The greatest American is a type, not a person. He is the American who fears God, pays his taxes, takes part in public affairs, cares for his family, and dies decent."

I read the item my friend sent me, for a second time.

That man who died at the County Farm had been a Missionary. He had spread the gospel of God all over the world.

He lost his wife and four of their children in an Omaha, Neb., tornado.

The other four children, all nurses in the Canadian Army, were killed during the first World War.

So this man, who had given many years of his life to God and to his family, who had been a fine citizen, husband and father, died in a poorhouse at 105.

I guess my friend was right—an unusual item about a Great American.

President Truman To Be Nominee

WASHINGTON, June 29.—With the Democratic convention two weeks away, it now seems as certain as anything in politics can be that President Truman will be renominated to oppose Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

This is not because the labor-liberal wing of the Democratic party has given up the hope of side-tracking Mr. Truman. Leaders of this action are still casting about for methods and a man.

But the plain fact is that their hope is very nearly foreclosed. The situation in Philadelphia will have its parallels with that prevailing during the Republican convulsion just ended. No one will be enthusiastic for Truman, as candidate, but he will be the only answer for a party that contains so many widely disparate elements.

Dilemma For Democrats
Something that happened behind the scenes at Philadelphia last week throws a light on the dilemma of the Democrats who want another choice. In their desperation, the extremists in the stop-Dewey coalition brought up the name of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They went further than that. They tried repeatedly to get in touch with the general, who is now president of Columbia University, in the hope that he would at least not say a final no.

All their efforts, both by telephone and by personal emissary, were in vain. They could not break through the determined wall of Eisenhower's silence.

It is not hard to understand why the stop-Dewey cabal clutched at this straw of hope. A Roper poll taken only a few weeks before showed that Eisenhower could defeat any Republican or any Democrat by a wide margin. In other words, he is the favorite of a large majority of all voters. But Eisenhower is not in the least interested in rescuing any political faction from reasons of politics. Along with millions of independent voters, he might have preferred a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket to the choice of the GOP last week.

The important fact, however, is that the Republicans rejected the Taber-Martin-Bricker wing of the party and chose a ticket that most independents will feel is at least adequate. A victory by the nationalist wing would put a grave responsibility up to the general.

Eisenhower, it is my belief, cannot be drafted by the Democrats. A forced draft, carried without consultation with Eisenhower, would subject the party to humiliating embarrassment.

This leaves as the only hope of the labor-liberal faction Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. In spite of his rather tepid public demands, Douglas is available.

For the same reason, however, that Senator Vandenberg could not be nominated by the Republicans, it would be all but impossible for the Democrats to nominate Douglas.

The split in the Democratic party on domestic policy is nearly as wide as the split in the Republican party on foreign policy.

Douglas is a New Dealer who has consistently upheld the Roosevelt policies. It is impossible, for example, to imagine him compromising the civil rights issue.

Truman Encouraged
This is written, of course, in the belief that President Truman has every intention of becoming the nominee of his party. That determination has become increasingly evident in recent weeks.

The World and the Mud Puddles

CHANGE OF DIET

News from Washington is that the Lower House is about to start debate on the question already negatively answered by the Senate, of giving away two hundred American ships and "lending" six hundred more, to the nations in the scope of the Marshall Plan.

Is the give-away spirit of the administration a delusion of grandeur or an incurable obsession?

Thus far, the only inclination of Mr. Truman to reduce taxes appears in his effort to repeal the poll tax in the South.

A Sharon husband writes to advise us that there have been flying saucers in his home for several years, but so far he has managed to dodge most of them.

A visitor to one of Pittsburgh's schools found hanging on the principal's office, this motto: "It isn't that we don't like this school—it's the principal of the thing."

A quiet retiring chap who works in a municipal office in a large city and who lives in the country, got the surprise of his life when he went to his polling place on Ansonia on election day.

Looking at his ballot, he saw the name "John Defonso." This Defonso, it seemed, was running for Justice of the Peace against two other candidates.

Afterward he made some inquiries and discovered that he was a candidate. Apparently, there had been enough write-in votes at the primary to get him nominated. He was elected, too.

Hints On Etiquette

The term "in-laws" having had so much unfavorable publicity, it is better to introduce your mother-in-law as "Jack's mother," or the daughter-in-law as "Jack's wife."

All Profited Except Stassen

PHILADELPHIA, June 29.—It is interesting to note that of the five men seriously considered for the Presidential nomination at the recent Republican Convention all save one profited, personally and politically, from the experience. The exception was Mr. Harold E. Stassen. There is no dispute that he was the architect of his own misfortunes.

GOVERNOR DEWEY, of course, was the chief beneficiary. He won the first prize after a long, hard, bitter struggle and against a formidable combination of rivals who tried—and at one time threatened—to tear him down. Notwithstanding this he was nominated amid great enthusiasm, without a dissenting vote and every one of his opponents pledged full support. It is doubtful whether any candidate for the presidency for more than 80 years has started his campaign with better prospects of success.

NEXT, take Governor Warren of California. When Mr. Warren first fought to the front in the pre-convention period as California's "favorite son" there was no disposition to regard him as a serious contender. His intimate friends said that Governor Warren's real ambition was to go on the Supreme Bench. That was why he was not interested in the vice presidency. By the time the convention convened, however, Mr. Warren had so grown in public estimation that there was a real Warren sentiment for President and a general realization that there was a man well above ordinary capacity. It required strong pressure not only from Governor Dewey but from his own California friends to convince Mr. Warren it was a duty to put aside his personal wishes and take the second place on the ticket. That he has strengthened it is too clear to argue.

THEN, there is Senator Taft, Governor Dewey's strongest competitor. He did not win. He did not even come close to winning. But it is possible to argue that actually he gained more than he lost. For his fight focused national attention upon the man and his record in a way nothing else could have done. As a result, he was revealed to the country as a whole not only as a man of great intelligence out of the highest character and courage. Totally devoid of cant and hypocrisy, incapable of demagoguery and cajoling, clear-headed and clear-minded, many thousands of citizens know Mr. Taft today as they did not know him before. It is a very real tribute that of all the men mentioned in connection with the presidency so many regard Senator Taft as the best equipped. The manner in which he took his defeat—cheerful, smiling with no visible trace of disappointment and not a vestige of bitterness—was typical of the man.

THEN, there is Senator Arthur Vandenberg. The farsighted, non-partisan statesmanship with which he has functioned as chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee certainly made him one of the outstanding men of the country. Without his wholehearted aid, the Marshall plan, upon which is founded the European Recovery Program, could not have been adopted. Without him the little group of key Republicans in the House would have succeeded in scuttling it, even after it had been approved. It was inevitable that a public sentiment in favor of "drafting" Mr. Vandenberg should develop. Had there been a deadlock, Mr. Vandenberg would have been drafted and would have accepted it. But he consistently refused to connive in the draft and there was no deadlock. Senator Vandenberg was relieved rather than disappointed at the result. Throughout, he maintained a dignified position. He has gained in prestige and respect.

FINALLY, there is Mr. Stassen. It would be pleasant to say that he, too, had come out of the fray with increased prestige and enhanced respect. It would be pleasant to say that, but it would not be true. The truth is that even some of Mr. Stassen's closest friends here were disappointed in him. After his Oregon defeat very few expected him to be nominated for the presidency. Mr. Stassen himself had no such expectation. On the contrary, he made no secret that his first desire was to defeat Governor Dewey and that Senator Vandenberg was the man he wanted nominated. He was almost as much opposed to Taft's nomination as to that of Dewey. With this attitude, clearly, the strategy of the anti-Dewey combination was wholly futile from the start. But it was his attitude toward the vice presidential nomination that most bitterly disappointed his friends. Even before the Dewey nomination it was known that Governor Dewey was willing to forget the disparaging things that Mr. Stassen had said of him and take him as his running mate if Mr. Stassen were willing.

BUT when they finally met to confer, the Stassen attitude was such that the offer was not made and the two men parted with no personal cordiality at all. It is not true, as since reported, that Governor Dewey wanted Mr. Stassen to "eat dirt" before he gave the word. It is true that Mr. Stassen could have had the nomination with complete self-respect, regardless of his previous statements, if he had accepted the counsel of men who had his interests at heart. The fact seems to be that Mr. Stassen let his feelings affect his judgment. He has lost the vice presidency for which he was willing to settle at one time post in the Dewey administration. What he does now to keep from slipping into the political shadows remains to be seen. Obviously, he cannot continue to be interesting or newsworthy by reiterating his devotion to the great cause of "liberalism" as though all others were Old Guardsmen and reactionaries. Repetition of the word will become ridiculous. He already has announced support of the ticket. His regularity will be preserved and on the surface there will seem no breach. But there is one and certainly, some of his followers feel let down.

Third Round Pay Boost For Steel Workers Likely

Report Murray And Fairless Have Secret Conference At Pittsburgh Monday

By PHILIPS J. PECK
(U. S. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, June 29.—Administration sources expressed belief today that the steel industry very soon will offer a third round wage increase to nearly a million steelworkers.

One top government official reported that CIO President Philip Murray was in Pittsburgh Monday talking secretly with Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, which generally is regarded as the bellwether of the industry.

Steel is one of the few major holdouts on the third round pay boost pattern, but its resistance apparently was greatly lowered by last week's wage settlement won by John L. Lewis' miners.

The steel company-owned "captive" mines did not immediately sign the contract but said they were willing to meet the wage and welfare fund increase granted by commercial operators to the United Mines Workers Union.

Steel objected to the agreement on grounds that its union shop clause violates the Taft-Hartley law.

However, some government officials believe the industry may have delayed signing the 1948 soft coal contract until negotiations could be reopened with Murray and an increase thrashed out for his steelworkers.

Miss Wheeling Of 1948 Is Selected

WHEELING, W. Va., June 29.—(INS)—Comely Mariruth Ford, who defied a threat of excommunication from the Catholic church for taking part in a beauty contest, today was "Miss Wheeling of 1948."

Miss Ford was chosen tops among eight beauties in the contest, sponsored by the Cosmopolitan Civic Club of Wheeling. Two other Catholic girls withdrew from the race after Bishop John J. Swint threatened to excommunicate any girl who participated. He described the contest as "totally pagan" and "absolutely immoral."

The 18-year-old Mariruth, of Warwood, W. Va., will get a chance at the state title and a $2,000 scholarship. She wouldn't comment when asked about the threatened excommunication.

WASHINGTON CALLING

as being greatly encouraged by two things. One is the reception accorded him on the West Coast and the other is the nomination of Dewey, whom Truman will try to tag as a conservative.

A Democratic strategy in the coming contest is obvious. It is to represent Mr. Truman as a true liberal deserving the support of the great mass of independent voters who have no real party allegiance. This is the line Mr. Truman took in his tour through the west.

But the president will be under a handicap that has nothing to do with his qualifications or lack of them. He will be the candidate of a party in power for 16 years.

PLUMS, PEARS AND PEPPERS
Plums and pears have a pretty color. Nature probably plans things so that fruit will be attractive and then people may eat it. A good sized pear provides about 100 calories of nourishment along with some vitamins and minerals. They look good and taste good. There are many different varieties with various colors, textures and flavors.

There are a lot of different kinds of plums too. They are good either fresh or canned. They help to stimulate the appetite. With our rapid transportation we have fresh fruit in the market all the year round.

Picnickers Would Do Well To Know About Poison Ivy

Do you know poison ivy when you see it? If you don't, you'd better stay out of the woods or learn to detect it if you are susceptible to the little vine which clings to anything upright that it can find.

This season of the year finds many seeking numerous remedies that are offered to combat the rash that generally breaks out after once coming in contact with the plant. Poison ivy grows abundantly, but if a little caution is used persons tramping through the woods or in fields where it flourishes can avoid coming in contact with it.

"Let It Be"

Someone has said, "Leaflets three, let it be," and that is pretty sound advice when it comes to poison ivy. Here's a description of the plant for the one who is not up in his or her botany. The leaves have stout, rather long stalks bearing three leaflets, two of which are opposite and short stalked while the end leaflet is long-stalked. The leaflets vary from one to four inches in length and when mature are dark green on the upper surface, lighter and sometimes velvety underneath.

The crinkly young leaves are red when they first unfold in the spring, becoming green with the advance of mild weather and turning to beautiful shades of scarlet and orange in the fall. The vines spread underground by root-stocks sending up an abundant shrubby growth, the branches, being to ascend any convenient support such as trees, telephone poles or fences.

"Deed Is Done"

The poison is an oily, non-volatile substance called urushiol which flows in the sap and pervades every part of the plant. Once a particle of the sap touches your sensitive skin the deed is done and a painful, irritating dermatitis is almost sure to follow.

If you tread the woodlands, remember that the oil can be carried on anything that contacts the plant, for instance, on one's shoes or on the fur of a dog and a person can be poisoned by touching these things. Washing with strong yellow soap and water within the first few minutes after exposure may mitigate the effects.

Says Republicans Will Again Break Into Solid South

House Speaker Martin Sees New Gains For G.O.P. In South In Coming Election

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., predicted today that the Republican party will break into the solid south again for the second time in 20 years in the November presidential election.

Martin anticipated that Virginia will vote for Thomas Dewey, Republican presidential nominee, and Earl Warren, his vice-presidential running mate.

He thinks that all the border states—Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Maryland, especially Tennessee—might go Republican, and forecast house gains in Virginia and Florida, which are now solidly represented in Washington by Democrats.

Martin, the permanent chairman of the Republican national convention, predicted a gain of "at least" 25 seats, including three in California, by the GOP in the house. The present house contains 244 Republicans, 185 Democrats and two American Laborites. There are four vacancies.

The Republicans last broke into the solid south in 1928 when four states—Virginia, Texas, North Carolina and Florida—voted for Herbert Hoover. Since the Civil war, the south has been traditionally Democratic.

Slow Down, Warning For Fourth Motorists

CHICAGO, June 29.—To get July off to a fast start in the safety column, the nation's motorists were asked by the National Safety Council today to slow down during the Fourth of July holiday.

Speed holds the key to how free of accidents the jam-packed highways will be during the long three-day weekend, the council said, when a record throng of pleasure-motored motorists will take to the road in celebration of Independence Day.

The council pointed out that speed is a contributing factor in two out of every five fatal accidents and that the greater the speed when an accident occurs, the greater the chance for death.

"Speed Kills—Take It Easy!", the council warned motorists, as part of a nationwide campaign against holiday accidents that threaten a bumper crop of deaths and injuries.

Seek To Avert Tragedies
One hundred thirty national organizations have joined with the council in an all-out effort to prevent a tragic holiday for hundreds of Americans. The campaign is designed to make the public aware of the extra holiday hazards and to help public officials, traffic officers and safety leaders in their efforts to curb the Fourth of July death toll.

In asking for public support of the campaign, Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, pointed out that speed control is the personal responsibility of each driver.

"The man behind the wheel is like the man behind the gun—and he can be just as deadly," he said. "Don't pull the trigger by driving too fast through the heavy traffic expected on the Fourth of July."

"Remember that the Fourth celebrates the birth of our nation. Don't let it become a day of death for you or your loved ones. Take It Easy on the Fourth—Be Alive on the Fifth!"

Practical Tips
The council offered these practical speed tips to holiday drivers:

1. Obey legal and common sense speed limits.
2. Keep your car under control at all times, so you can stop if you have to.
3. Slow down before you get to an intersection or traffic signal.
4. Keep a safe, clear stopping distance between you and the car ahead.
5. Keep following traffic in your rearview mirror, signal for turns and avoid abrupt stops.
6. Slow down at sundown—hold nighttime speed below the maximum at which you can stop within the range of your lights.

Henry Home Booth On Sesqui-Midway

Women Of Eagles Will Continue
Drive For Funds For Margaret Henry Home

The Margaret L. Henry Children's Home on the east side will be represented on the Sesquiennial midway which will be erected on the city parking lot adjacent to the central fire station on South Jefferson street during the week. The Ladies of the Eagles have secured permission from the Sesquiennial authorities to erect a booth where contributions will be received for the repair fund of the children's home.

The booth, which is being erected gratis by the Pamela Lumber company, will be manned by women of the Eagles and Moose and will have an attendant at all hours. In addition to the booth, steel cans will be distributed about for the receiving of funds for the needed repair work to be done at the home.

Among the many projects that are planned for the welfare of the children who reside at the Henry Home is the recovering of the tables with inlaid linoleum and chrome binding and the replacement of the 30-year-old cook stove. The improvements will save many hours of labor for the staff at the home. Expense of the project, which includes ticket printing and issuing of tags, is being sponsored by the men of the Eagles.

Plans are being laid for another paper drive in the fall to be sponsored by the Eagles ladies for the benefit of the Henry Home. All the work during the centennial and the work to be done next fall is being done free of charge by the women.

Ramazzini, 17th century physician, pioneered for better health for workers. Twenty years of his life were devoted to the investigation of working conditions and propounding theories of what we know today as industrial hygiene. He wrote a book about his findings, too.

Portrait Still Unidentified At Public Library

The "mystery man" portrait at the free public library is still unidentified, but thus far librarians Miss Alice Sterling reports that the donor of the portrait is Ernest Hill of 510 Wolfe street.

Mr. Hill, a collector of books and prints, bought the portrait at a sale of antiques at the Phillips House some years ago. He later donated it along with other books to the library and thought nothing more about it, until the article appeared in the paper.

Even Mr. Hill doesn't know who he is. He purchased it only because the portrait, so excellently painted, would enhance a wall, and thus he gave it to the library.

Again the description: portrait, 25 by 30 inches painting. The gentleman is about 50 years, with very clear features. His hair is parted on the left, he has a broad nose, grey-blue eyes, a black suit, and wears a pleated front-shirt. Graying hairs are at the temples.

Do you know him? Or think you do? Call Miss Sterling at the public library.

Around Hollywood

By RUTH BRIGHAM

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, June 29.—(INS)—

One of the busiest men in Hollywood—and one of the nicest—actor-producer Eddie Albert.

Albert is now completing his role in "You Gotta Stay Happy" with Jimmy Stewart and Joan Fontaine. He then takes off for New York and a big deal that we're not at liberty to talk about as yet, but watch the young producer.

Broadway Bound

We can divulge that there's a very good chance that you'll be seeing him in a delightful satire on Broadway come fall openings. We hope the vehicle will mean the return to the stage of his versatile wife, Margo.

The charming red-head confided that she's fascinated with the script—and would love to do a play with her husband. She also says she's continuing her dancing.

The Alberts (he's a former naval officer) live in a lovely home perched high on a Hollywood knoll. They're quite different from the Hollywood you read about in gossip columns. Both are interested in politics—and are much better informed than some of the congressmen we know.

Young Is Serious

Another serious young man whose forte also is comedy is Alan Young. A Canadian citizen, Young has been in this country only four years, but he has established a firm foothold in the best possible way—through the youth.

When he isn't working at the radio and movie studios he can always be found at the Mickey Finn Youth Foundation in downtown Los Angeles.

There, with Patrolman Mickey Finn, Young has an incorporated boys club that is working miracles. They have recently formed "The Sea Raiders", composed of over 100 boys who were not permitted to join the Boy Scouts because of their police records.

Combats Delinquency

Young, the son of a British naval officer and a former member of the Canadian navy himself, says he is sure the club has done much to combat juvenile delinquency.

And the sweetest words he ever heard were uttered by a boy with a record for larceny.

One of Young's movie friends attended a party at the boys club and when she seemed to hesitate a moment over checking her mink coat, the youth said:

"Lady, your coat will be as safe here as it would be in a bank vault. You see, I'm in charge."

State Industrial Activity Climbs

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 29.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania State College Bureau of Business Research today reported industrial activity in the state attained a new post-war peak during May.

The bureau's monthly survey showed activity in May was 3 per cent above April and 7 per cent over May, 1947. The increase brought the index for May to 195.

The rise was accredited to a "strong comeback" by industry, particularly steel, following the spring coal walkout. Bituminous coal production during the month was the highest in more than 24 years and industrial power sales also established new records, the bureau reported.

the brightest "star" in your future

All eyes are on the brightest "star" of the building world. The "star" is the emblem for the Red Seal Wiring standards, the hallmark of a home designed for modern living... Electrical living.

Red Seal Wiring means a proper service entrance, large enough wires to carry the load plus plenty of circuits and convenience outlets to take care of today's requirements as well as tomorrow's.

Red Seal is the minimum of standard wiring adequacy and covers the average home needs. However, your individual requirements may call for more.

Consult your wiring contractor. Specify Red Seal Wiring and he will tell you just what you need to qualify for the Red Seal Certificate.

Remember—the wiring system is the heart of your home.

BOOKS FORUM MEETS JULY 1

If you love conversation, but are bored with funny stories, the love life of a movie star, or the batting average of a baseball player, let us suggest that you attend the Great Books Forum meeting at the public library Thursday, July 1, at 7:30 p. m.

The subject will be the Book of Ecclesiastes. Probably you have your own copy, but if not the pub-

Mrs. Ralph Weide who will lead the discussion threatens something worse than a kangaroo court penalty to anyone who fails to have read the book. Have you a Bible?

Worst Quake In Japan Was 25 Years Ago

(International News Service)

Throughout her history, Japan has had an abundance of earthquakes, both large and small.

The most disastrous, however, was the great shock which destroyed a third of Tokyo and all of the great port city of Yokohama on September 1, 1923.

The loss of life was terrifying, but the bulk of these casualties resulted not from the catastrophic trembling of the earth but from the ensuing great fires.

Death Toll 143,000

A final estimate placed the death toll at 143,000 men, women and children. More than 558,000 homes and buildings were destroyed.

The entire world rallied to Japan's aid. In the United States thousands of persons contributed food, money and clothing to help the quakes surviving victims.

The 1923 quake had its epicenter in Sagami bay and a subsequent survey showed depth changes ranging as high as three-quarters of a mile in its bottom.

Disaster in 1920

The '23 disaster and an earlier one on December 16, 1920, at Kamsu, China, which took 100,000 lives were the only quakes of the 20th century which claimed more than 100,000 lives.

The two greatest temblor catastrophes of all time were at Shensi, China, on January 24, 1556 in which 830,000 persons perished and on October 11, 1737 at Calcutta, India, in which 200,000 died. Japan, during her recorded history, has experienced innumerable earth shocks, some so imperceptible that only the most sensitive seismographs could register them; others so rocking that seismographs on the other side of the world recorded their vibrations.

One volume on Japanese history estimates that the little country has felt more than 2,000 major disturbances since the eighth century A. D. Most of these, it is believed, stemmed from the Tuscara Deep which has made the Pacific coast of Japan a continuous target for tidal waves.

$100,000 Surprise

Learning he's been willed $100,000 by Duan Cassaro, a Cuban planter, Otto Kroll, sailor and former prize fighter, seems a bit stunned as he contemplates his good fortune in Miami, Fla. In 1943, while skipper of an Army Air Force craft, Kroll pulled Cassaro's daughter, Dolores, from the sea when the plane on which she was a passenger went down off Trinidad. He refused a reward. But now, from a Baltimore attorney, he learns of the rich bequest.

FAMED 10-2-4 DRINK MAKES DEBUT IN LOCAL STORES

"DRINK A BITE TO EAT AT 10, 2 AND 4 O'CLOCK, IT BRIGHTENS SPIRITS AND IMPROVES EFFICIENCY."

Now available in bottles here in the famous 10-2-4 drink. Dr. Pepper, one of the oldest and most popular carbonated beverages in America.

Dr. Pepper originated in Texas 63 years ago, where it has always been a high favorite. In more recent years, under aggressive management, distribution has spread gradually over most of the nation.

Dr. Pepper is unique in the soft drink field. Its flavor is not derived from any single source, nor is it a copy of any other drink. It is an ingenious, utterly unique combination of many good things in one, and so delicately balanced and blended that it never tires the taste.

The manufacturers of Dr. Pepper have led the industry in exploiting a five-cent carbonated drink, not merely as a drink but a food energy lift. The famous slogan, "Drink a bite to eat at 10, 2 and 4 o'clock," is no mere catch phrase. Eminent scientists now recommend five or six meals daily instead of three. They urge workers to eat three regular, well-balanced meals at the usual hours, then supplement them, between meals with snacks of high-energy food. Their tests proved that manual workers, under this system, produced up to 10 per cent more work.

POPULAR SOFT DRINK COMES TO NEW CASTLE AND LAWRENCE COUNTY

NEW BOTTLER NOW PRODUCING UNIQUE "LIQUID BITE TO EAT"

The New Castle area's newest enterprise, the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company, is now in full operation, according to Howard G. Ausem, operator. Mr. Ausem was awarded the franchise by Dr. Pepper Company, Dallas, Texas.

Mr. Ausem was chosen from a long list of applicants and awarded the new franchise with exclusive rights to bottle and distribute Dr. Pepper in New Castle and Lawrence county.

The new bottling plant is located at 1500 Butler avenue, in New Castle, and is completely equipped throughout with the most modern and efficient bottling machinery.

"I selected New Castle as the proper place to build a future with Dr. Pepper," declared Mr. Ausem, "and impressions up to now assure me that I have made a wise choice".

Continuing, he said, "To the dealers who retail our product and to those who consume it, I pledge that quality standards will be rigidly maintained, and to conduct the business on a plane that will reflect credit to my company, and make our city proud to count it among its useful industries".

DR. PEPPER CO. ERECTS HUGE NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

SQUARE FOOT AREA EQUALS 30-STORY BUILDING—In the early 1930's Dr. Pepper Company built new syrup factories in both Dallas and Birmingham, Alabama, which were then calculated as adequate for a quarter century to come. Within the span of 16 years they have been completely outgrown.

Now a huge, new National headquarters building in Dallas is almost completed. It occupies a 26-acre site which is being landscaped like a beautiful park. The building will be a masterpiece of architectural beauty; modern to the nth degree; resplendent with white masonry walls, glass-brick and glistening tile.

The building will house the syrup factory, supplying a large part of the United States and foreign countries, the executive offices, testing laboratories. More than 4,000 franchise applications, are now under consideration.

Miner's Union Faces Charges

District Union Accused Of Violating Taft-Hartley Law By N.L.R.B.

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—One of John L. Lewis' district unions was accused today of violating the Taft-Hartley law by forcing employees of four non-union mines in West Virginia to join in the pension strike last April.

A complaint charging district 31 of the United Mine Workers with an unfair labor practice was issued by Paul F. Shupp, acting regional director of the NLRB's Pittsburgh office.

Charges Made
The government charged that officers, agents, representatives, and members had forcibly closed the mines of the Rutledge Coal Co., the Hartman Coal Co., the Borgman Coal Co. and the George K. Kover Coal Co. in West Virginia.

Approximately 445 employees were involved.

The NLRB complaint charged that district 31 obstructed the mine exits so that workers could not leave.

The complaint added: "As a condition of release from the tension, the employees were required to sign application for membership in the union."

The walkout in April of Lewis' 400,000 soft coal miners was called to enforce the UMW's demands for a $100 a month pension plan. The strike ended when Lewis and Sen. Bridges (R, N. H., neutral trustee on the UMW welfare fund, voted such a plan.

However, Lewis and the UMW were fined $1,420,000 for contempt of court in refusing to obey promptly an injunction against the strike.

A public hearing on today's complaint will be held before an NLRB trial examiner next Aug. 10 at Kingwood, W. Va.

Bonus Program Will Terminate Thursday

Spanish-American And World War I Veterans Have Until Mid-Night Thursday To File

HARRISBURG, June 29.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's $50,000,000 bonus program for World War I and Spanish-American War veterans will be terminated Thursday, it was announced today by the department of military affairs.

The 38,000 veterans who failed to apply for the maximum $200 payment have until midnight July 1 to qualify under terms of the fifth and "last extension" of the bonus pay period, Adjutant General Frank A. Weber announced.

He said claims postmarked not later than midnight Thursday will be considered.

Rate of Service
The bonuses are paid at the rate of $10 for each month's service up to $200. They were authorized by the legislature in 1934 and extended by five separate legislatures. The final deadline was set by the 1945 General Assembly.

Weber said $44,734,105 had been paid as of June 1 to 321,907 veterans or 90 per cent of the former servicemen eligible. Of the sum $2,045,872 went to 18,845 Spanish-American War veterans, he added.

To qualify claimants must have been legal residents of Pennsylvania when they entered the service, Weber emphasized.

MAN DROWNS IN FOOT OF WATER

HASTINGS, Pa., June 29.—(INS)—Deputy Coroner Edward Bishop today said the death of Martin Koszowski, 60, Hastings coal miner, was due to drowning in one foot of water in an open sewage ditch.

Koszowski apparently fell about six feet into the ditch Monday, fracturing his skull and knocking him unconscious with his head submerged.

Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing announced today that a 40 million dollar hospital for cancer, heart and mental disease research will be built at Bethesda, Md., near Washington.

Ewing said that bids on the project will be invited in July and that he hoped the hospital may be completed within three years.

The hospital will have facilities of the National Institute of Mental Health, the National Cancer Institute, the National Heart Institute, and the National Institute of Dental Research.

Ewing said that "major emphasis will be placed on the predominant causes of death and the most frequent causes of disability in the nation today."

Next Move Of Marshal Tito Is Awaited

LONDON, June 29.—Marshal Tito's next move as a result of his denunciation by the Soviet Cominform was awaited eagerly throughout the world today.

But his Yugoslavia appeared unaware that Tito has fallen suddenly from the Kremlin's favor.

Rome reported martial law proclaimed in Belgrade. But a U. S. embassy spokesman said by telephone to Paris that there were no unusual measures except for government deliberations.

It could not be ascertained whether Tito personally attended these sessions or whether he is still at his summer home.

Aftermath Of State Battle

Tales Of Some Of Behind-
The-Scenes Shenanigans
At G.O.P. Convention

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, June 29.—(INS)—In the wake of the Republican national convention comes tales of some of the behind-scenes shenanigans that made political history. One of the most interesting concerning the Pennsylvania delegation is an explanation of the extra vote swung to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio between the first and second ballots for the presidential nominee. On the initial voting 41 of the delegation's 73 votes were cast for Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York while 27 went for Taft. On the second, the count was 40 and 28 respectively. The switch was made by Harry I. Matthews of Titusville, a lieutenant of Highway Secretary Ray F. Smock, Crawford county GOP chairman.

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin was credited with the explanation that between ballots Gov. James H. Duff threatened to oust Smock from his state cabinet post unless Matthews lent support. Duff was one of the foremost participants in the "stop-Dewey" drive. His activity represented not only opposition to Dewey as a candidate but opposition to Martin, former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy and National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association.

There has been some speculation on the effect of the faction fight in Pennsylvania GOP on the Lackawanna county organization which recently weathered an upheaval. Some residents believe former County Chairman Everett Rosser, ousted in May, may be given patronage recognition by Duff. School Board President William P. Evans, who succeeded Rosser, won by a single vote with the backing of Chief Justice of the State Supreme Court George W. Maxey and Worthington Scranton. Maxey and Mrs. Worthington Scranton, national committeewoman, voted for Dewey.

The shortage of doctors has been pointed up by a full page advertisement in the Pennsylvania Medical Journal by the state health department seeking enlistment of physicians for the state tuberculosis sanatoria at Hamburg, Mount Alto and Cresson.

Governor Duff, chairman of the state's delegation to the GOP convention, was known among Pennsylvania newsmen as "Big Red." Throughout the turbulent sessions, the red-haired governor kept an ever-tender with newsmen plugging him for news of the delegation but was never forthcoming.

One of the big state holdovers to turn from Governor Duff's support of U. S. Taft was State Security Commissioner J. Myron Honifman. A lieutenant of Philadelphia GOP Chairman William Meade, Honifman told Duff he would support Governor Dewey a few minutes before stand up and be counted. Honifman personally wanted to side with Duff but Meade, his sponsor, was for Dewey.

Paul Revere who made the famous ride to warn the American colonists of the approach of the British, and who was a noted silversmith of his time was appointed president of the first American board of health, in Boston, in 1799.

Report Cominform Has Ousted Tito

PRAGUE, June 29.—(INS)—The communist newspaper Rude Pravo said Monday that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia "in effect" has been expelled from the cominform, the new communist international information bureau.

The newspaper stated that the cominform broke with the Yugoslav chief of state because the Yugoslav communist party under Tito's leadership showed signs of preferring the policies of the western democracies to those of the Soviet Union.

Rude Pravo printed a cominform communique which charged that Tito and his followers "silently" accepted the theory that the capitalists represented a lesser danger to the independence of Yugoslavia than the Soviet Union.

The communique accused the Yugoslav communists of having "split from the United Socialist front and started on the road leading to the betrayal of the international solidarity of the workers."

D.P.s Must Have Housing And Jobs To Get Into U. S.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—It will be up to Americans to make a place in this country for 205,000 homeless Europeans in the next two years, government officials revealed.

The first of these war refugees are tentatively scheduled to begin arriving at east coast ports in late August. But before any can be let in, they must be guaranteed jobs and housing, officials pointed out.

That is one of the requirements of the new displaced persons legislation signed by President Truman yesterday. It means, officials said, that private citizens, local communities and national religious and welfare groups will have to carry the bill if the resettlement program is to succeed.

Any American who wants to can start the ball rolling now with an offer to provide a job and housing for a European or a European family, officials said.

He should write to the Immigration Service or the displaced person commissioners, or get in touch with the Protestant, Catholic or Jewish national welfare organizations.

The immigrants' passage to this country will be paid by the International Refugee Organization. The U. S. will furnish some 18 ships on a rental or fee basis. The D.P.s will be unloaded at Philadelphia, Boston and New York, with an occasional stop at New Orleans.

Demand Reforms In Marriage Laws For Chinese Women

SHANGHAI, June 29.—(INS)—Modernizing reforms in China's ancient marriage customs—designed to weaken male domination—were demanded in Shanghai today by one of the few women members of the Chinese Parliament.

The lady legislator, Miss Yui Jun Chen, complained that in all of China's long-sacred nuptial procedures "the woman always pays." Miss Chen served notice she will fight to obtain laws effecting the following reforms:

1. The difference in age between husband and wife must not be more than ten years.
2. The presence of witnesses at the wedding ceremony shall be obligatory, with their absence constituting grounds for divorce.

3. There shall be a definite time limit between the moment of proposal and the date of the wedding. (This is designed to wipe out the Chinese custom of "contracting" for a marriage while the prospective bride is still a child.)

Tax Collections To Be Discussed

Disunity Seen In Red Nations

British Spokesman Comments On Cominform's Denunciation Of Tito

LONDON, June 29.—(INS)—An authoritative British spokesman said today that the cominform's denunciation of Marshall Tito "reveals a degree of disunity in Communist-dominated countries not hitherto disclosed."

An official British statement will be issued later.

Meanwhile, it was pointed out that the manifesto accusing Tito of pro-western sentiments shows that the cominform has abandoned all pretense of being merely an information bureau and emerges with executive and disciplinary functions.

Only One Form
The spokesman said it now is clear that Communism is to have only one form—that approved by the Kremlin.

The central committee of the Yugoslav People's Front was reported to be holding an extraordinary meeting to take a stand on the cominform action.

Accounts that an emergency meeting has been called were received as London diplomatic quarters said they expect an almost certain attempt by Soviet Communist officials to deprive Premier Marshall Tito of power in Yugoslavia.

Advices from central Europe indicated that the views of the Belgrade regime will be stated authoritatively today or tomorrow following the meeting of the central committee.

Camp East Brook Activities Many

Mock Wedding Among Many Activities Scheduled At YWCA Camp At First Period

Week-long schedules have kept 40 girls from ages ranging from six to ten years, quite busy at the Y.W.C.A. Camp East Brook, with a varied program enjoyed each day. Miss Maxine Taylor, as director, took charge of Monday evening's mock wedding when hilarity and fun was the rule of the day.

Participants in the wedding included: Bride, Judy Cunningham; bridegroom, Carol Jenkins; maid of honor, Beanie Reynolds; best man, Margaret Smith; preacher, Leah Schill; singer, Mary Beth Winter; bridesmaids, Rita Ann Zieve and Helen Kay Haydon; flower girl, Margie Ann Wilson; and ushers, Becky Falls and Jean Byers.

The girls are enjoying camp life for a period of two weeks, and this first period finds 40 girls "out camping."

Thus far they have featured during their program a get-acquainted party; treasure hunt; square dance, hare-and-hound chase, costume ball, stunt night and weiner roast and games. Each was held on a particular day last week.

Bellefonte Man Found Suicide

BELLEFONTE, Pa., June 29.—(INS)—Charles W. Keller, 45, missing from his Bellefonte home almost 24 hours, was found dead of self-inflicted throat and wrist wounds today on a mountain side near Curtin Narrows.

Police said Keller cut himself in his automobile and then staggered up a narrow mountain road leading to a summer cottage site. A razor was found near the car.

In ill health
Warner, survived by three children and his widow, left home yesterday apparently for a barbershop. Search parties found the car last night but were forced to delay the hunt for Keller until daylight. Coroner Charles Sheckler concluded the evidence indicated death by suicide.

Where does a job come from?

from a wire?

from a log?

Certainly! It takes a live wire to find markets, design the product, specify materials, organize production, sell the finished goods at a profit. Without good management to direct all these operations capably, there would be no jobs worthy of the name.

Where do these working dollars come from? In a free country, they come from the people themselves. From millions of investors whose dollars make it possible for business to grow—to provide more and better jobs, to produce more and better goods. That's why the New York Stock Exchange believes it imperative that people have an incentive to save and invest. That's why our government's policies—particularly its tax policies—must be so shaped that investors are able, and willing, to put their dollars to work.

Absolutely! No company can operate without a backlog of working dollars, with which to build factories, buy materials and equipment, pay wages. Every job in modern industry represents an investment of at least $1,500 . . . in some industries, as much as $40,000!

Injunction Halts Route 422 Work In Butler County

Property Owners Contend That Land Outside Of Road Right-Of-Way Is Being Destroyed

BUTLER, June 29.—Judge William B. Purvis of the Butler county courts has issued a temporary injunction against a contracting firm working on Route 422 between the Lawrence county line and Mt. Chestnut, Pa., with a $5,000 bond posted by the objectors to the claimed unnecessary damage being done to their property.

Final hearing on the matter will take place on Thursday, July 1, when the complainants, Elston D. Johnson, Portersville; Lloyd T. Stilson, Youngstown; Ronald W. Prior, Orwell, O., and the defendants, the Frank Mashuda Contracting company and Stanley Mashuda will meet to iron out the difficulty.

According to property owners, the contractor has piled dirt 20 to 30 feet high on their property, has destroyed a great number of small white oak trees in a grove adjacent, caused other damage and will continue to use the land, permanently impairing it and killing for ever the growth thereon unless prevented from doing so.

New Creek Channel

The complainants state that the contractors are constructing a new channel for Muddy creek and have taken a new right of way 100 feet wide, with the state granting certain contracts for the grading and laying of the concrete slab and the re-channeling of the creek through their property.

The highway department on April 21 awarded the general contract on the job to Johnson, Drake & Piper, Inc., New York City, at their bid of $3,423,293.93. The work will include modernizing 12.90 miles of U. S. routes 19 and 422 in Butler and Lawrence counties. Construction of a traffic interchange of the two important highways near the Lawrence county line is to take place. Route 422 traffic will pass underneath Route 19 enroute to Butler, while Route 19 traffic will pass by means of an overhead bridge thus eliminating cross traffic. Work has already begun on the overhead bridge with one leg of the bridge constructed.

Cadillac

Never before—even in Cadillac's unique history of acceptance—has an automobile been accorded quite the same endorsement as that given the beautiful new Cadillac you now see on the roads. With the presentation of this car, Cadillac experienced the greatest upsurge of popularity in its entire 45-year history.

First came universal endorsement of Cadillac's striking beauty and originality of design. Then, as more and more people experienced for themselves the superb performance of these automobiles, it became apparent that now—even more than before—Cadillac's beauty is a true reflection of its inner excellence.

As a result, thousands who had previously been content with lesser cars, have determined to make their next automobile a Cadillac. May we invite you to inspect these great new motor cars in our showrooms?

Urges Curbing Of Encroachment On Rights Of States

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 29.—(INS)—Former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts, of Philadelphia, today urged a constitutional amendment to curb the federal government's encroachment on states' rights.

The president of the Pennsylvania Bar Association addressed more than 800 members of the PBA at the opening session of its 53rd annual meeting in Atlantic City. The noted jurist said:

"I think it might be a salutary thing if political leaders and influential citizens should initiate a movement to amend article I, section 8, (of the Constitution) so as to define the general welfare which Congress may promote by appropriation and to define what is permissible federal regulation of interstate commerce.

Roberts described these two provisions as the loopholes through which the federal invasion has poured into the domain of the states.

In moving for the amendment, the jurist said, "we should at least discover whether there is a sentiment to preserve, protect and foster state jurisdiction and state power; or whether our people prefer something more nearly approaching alien systems, wherein the states are mere administrative districts of a central government."

Roadside Restaurant Demolished By Truck

CARLISLE, Pa., June 29.—(INS)—A tiny roadside restaurant near Middlesex was demolished when a heavy tractor-trailer drifted from its parking place and smashed into the frail structure.

State police said no one was in the building yesterday when the truck slipped its brakes at a nearby service station and drifted into the restaurant.

Earl B. Andes, 25, of Leacock, Lancaster county, driver of the truck, had stopped for his dinner at another restaurant, according to police.

WALMO YOUTH HURT

Murray-Fairless Spokesmen Claim No Secret Talks

Believed Only Matter Of Time Until Steel Management Reverses Wage Stand

PITTSBURGH, June 29.—(INS)—Spokesmen for CIO President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless today denied that a secret talk about a third-round wage increase for steelworkers had occurred Monday in Pittsburgh.

The steelworkers source said no progress has been made since "big steel's" rejection of wage demands April 30.

Matter Of Time However, it is considered only a matter of time until steel management reverses its stand and follows the example of other basic industries in raising wages.

And another increase in the price of steel is expected to result. The soft coal contract obtained last week by John L. Lewis is regarded as the "straw that broke the camel's back."

Soon after—and if—steel signs the contracts with its "captive" miners, announcement of raises for steelworkers is expected to follow.

COMMISSION LOUIS' TRAINER TO RECRUIT TALENTED 'HEAVIES'

NEW YORK, June 29.—(INS)—A syndicate of Wall Street brokers today commissioned Manny Stamen, trainer of Joe Louis, to recruit young heavyweight boxers with latent talent.

Seamon will train the most likely candidates as possible contenders for the title vacated by the Brown Bomber.

Louis, faithful to his promise to retire as heavyweight champion after knocking out Joe Walcott last Friday night, said he would make the act official next week. He will tender letters announcing the fact to the New York State Athletic Commission and the National Boxing Association, the two controlling bodies of boxing.

Return of 19 lettermen establishes Penn State as a prospective football power again in 1948.

AMERICANS STILL IN TITULAR BATTLE IN BRITISH TENNIS

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 29.—(INS)—The ranks of Americans still in competition in the Wimbledon tennis championships were thinning today but the survivors possessed class enough to insure that the United States will be battling for titles at the finish.

Five American stars were in the quarter-finals in the women's singles. They are Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion; Doris Hart, of Miami, Fla.; Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, of La Jolla, Calif.; Louis Brough, of Beverly Hills, Calif.; and Shirley Fry, of Akron, O.

In this division, an All-American final was anticipated. However, there was no such possibility in the men's singles, because Bob Falkenburg and Gardner Mulloy, the two Americans who reached the semi-finals, will be pitted against each other.

Optimists Ready Plans For Derby, Model Plane Meet

Two of the city's biggest sports events for boys—the "Small Flies" model airplane meet on July 18, and the Orange Crate Derby on Labor Day are keeping members of the Optimist club busy these days readying plans.

The model plane meet is scheduled for July 18 at 10 a. m. with Joe Yachabach heading the committee.

The first application has been received in the Orange Crate Derby, that of John Bockius of R. D. 1. John is 13 and is a pupil in the sixth grade at Shenango Township school.

The committee, with Gus Slovinsky as chairman, is working hard to make this year's race one of the best and biggest in the area.

An imposing list of prizes will be announced at a later date.

Draft Will Bring Unemployment Low

WASHINGTON, June 29.—(INS)—The Labor department forecasts that the draft will bring unemployment to a new low.

Ewan Clague, director of the department's bureau of labor statistics, asserted that employment of non-farm workers in May continued to exceed 1947 totals by more than a million and a quarter.

He said that unemployment was 10 per cent under the two-million figure of May a year ago.

Low Ebb In 1949

Clague pointed out that despite a "continuing firm demand for labor, unemployment may very well rise in the summer months" with more than two million young persons seeking work with the end of the school year.

Looking beyond the summer months, Clague added:

"The pressures on the manpower supply have obviously been reinforced by the recent legislation to expand the size of the armed forces, although the demands of the military for manpower are not likely to be fully effective before early 1949."
